

The Cincinnati Cancer Advisors Mission

The days following a cancer diagnosis can stir feelings of uncertainty, urgency and apprehension.

Cincinnati Cancer Advisors (CCA) is an independent, consultative oncology practice that exists to improve the care of cancer patients who are seeking a completely objective second opinion. Our mission is to deliver a thorough understanding of your diagnoses and instill confidence in your plan of care.

No Cost to Patients

Your cancer journey is complicated. We understand that research and wading through your treatment options can be overwhelming and expensive.

The experienced team at Cincinnati Cancer Advisors knows and understands many cancer types and we are here to answer your questions. Our experts provide unbiased, in-depth research and recommendations to you and your treating oncologist.

Nationwide, second opinions frequently cost $2,000 or more and are often not covered by insurance. We do not want insurance, or a lack thereof, to serve as a barrier to excellent care. As part of its 20/20 Foresight program, we assume the cost of all services provided to our patients with the help of our generous donors.

We will be right there by your side, reviewing your plan and connecting you to the resources you need. We want you to be your strongest — physically, emotionally, and financially. We will create a detailed plan that will serve as a personal checklist. And, our communication will be clear and easy-to-understand.

Genetic Testing and Counseling

One of the most exciting developments in cancer treatment in recent years has been advent of “molecular medicine,” or “precision oncology.” By understanding a person’s unique genetic makeup, or the specific composition of their cancer, treatment plans can be customized to achieve an optimized outcome, often with improved quality of life relative to “standard of care” treatments.

All appointments at CCA incorporate the expertise of a precision oncology expert who evaluates the benefits that can be derived from the addition of genetic testing. Like all services provided by CCA, genetic counseling is free to our patients and in many cases, CCA can even provide the genetic test free of charge to the patient.

Financial Navigation

CCA’s Financial Navigation Program provides assistance with the financial challenges that accompany a cancer diagnosis and treatment.

We know that when you’re fighting cancer, it’s not just about treatments and therapies. It’s about having someone in your corner to help you deal with the financial challenges caused by cancer so you can focus on getting better. That’s why we’ve partnered with Patient Advocate Foundation (PAF) to offer the Financial Navigation Program. This program furthers our commitment to no-cost, consultative oncology services for cancer patients.
